

NAPA VALLEY FILM FESTIVAL

November 11–15, 2015

WORLD PREMIERE OF SOMM: INTO THE BOTTLE

Director Jason Wise

Opening Night at the Napa Valley Film Festival starts out with an explosive toast to those who love wine all over the world!

The sequel to the popular documentary about aspiring master sommeliers, Somm: Into the Bottle delves into the world of wine and the global fascination with wine culture. Director Jason Wise gives audiences a look behind the curtain into the rarely seen world of wine production. How exactly is it grown? How does it age? What steps are involved from vine to cellar to table? The film also covers history from the Romans to Prohibition, through the world wars and up to current events like last year's Napa earthquake. Through the eyes of the world's greatest Somms and winemakers, we discover that far more than just grapes go into the bottle.

5:00PM Wednesday, November 11, Uptown Theatre, Napa

- Access: Patron Circle, Ticket Holders

8:30PM Encore Screening

- Access: All Passholders
- $15 Rush tickets can be purchased at the door if seats are still available after passholders are admitted

7:30PM – 10:00PM VIP After Party

- Access: Patron Circle, Ticket Holders
- Riverfront Promenade, Napa

Advance tickets for the 5:00PM screening and party can be purchased for $150
www.nvff.org

Additional screenings of Somm: Into the Bottle at NVFF:

FRI 1:30PM, CAIRDEAN, ST HELENA/CALISTOGA

SUN 8:00PM, CAMEO CINEMA, ST HELENA

*Dates and Times for all films are subject to change

LEARN MORE AT ... NVFF.ORG